

At Productos Químicos y Derivados S.A de C.V. we are committed to fulfill the expectations of our customers during the design, manufacture and marketing of lubricants and chemical specialties for the metal-mechanic industry and a wide range of raw materials for cleaning and personal care products. We achieve this through team-work to reach the objectives of the organization while permanently seeking for continuous improvement in all of our processes.